

Jonathan Perloe, Voter Choice Connecticut

Jonathan is an election reform and gun violence prevention activist living in Greenwich, CT. He co-founded and leads Voter Choice Connecticut, the volunteer citizens' group working to bring ranked choice voting to Connecticut. Since the 2016 election, he has been active in efforts to protect and expand the freedom to vote, and to strengthen democracy through election reform, including the successful grassroots effort to get Connecticut to join the National Popular Vote Compact.

In 2017, following a long career in marketing communications strategy on both the client and agency side, Jonathan moved into legislative advocacy, where he now works as the communications director for CT Against Gun Violence.
